

TECNORAMA'S 1,000th machine installed at Raymond

Mr. Lorenzo Mariglio, Executive Sales Manager, Tecnorama and Mr. Milind Sawant, CEO, Kailash Textile Solution

Tecnorama has announced its reaching the historical milestone of selling one-thousandth machine.

The Indian textile major Raymond chose a DOS & DYE® system for precision dyeing of its high quality yarns and fabrics, taking the sale to 1,000.

It isn't every day that a company receives a vote of confidence from a renowned group like Raymond. Founded in 1925, it is an undisputed leader in worsted suiting field, producer of high-end cotton and linen shirting and denims and a force to reckon with in the branded apparel industry. With more than 800 dedicated retail stores and thousands of MBOs in India and neighbouring countries, it is indeed the most admired textile brand.

Tecnorama's satisfaction in placing its one thousandth machine – with none other than Raymond – enhances its pride in the great success it has already achieved.

In just over 30 years Tecnorama has sold 1,000 of its machines all over the world. Yet, as excited as the company is about these results, this is of course not the finish line. The company is convinced that all of this is only the spring board to aim for even greater successes, and it hopes to work toward the goal of selling its next thousand machines in an even shorter period of time.

Market interest in Tecnorama continues to rise. The company's perseverance in working with dedication and quality is being rewarded, and there is enough proof that this is the right path to continue to follow. For this, the company thanks all the clients who have placed their trust in its performance over the years and helped to make Tecnorama the solid, strong company it is today.
